

Онлайн-сервіси та цифрові помічники учителя НУШ
в роботі з текстами та медіатекстами на уроках словесності

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

"Koala Man" David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people's homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn't look happy. "There's a koala, stop the truck," he shouted and jumped out. "I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water." Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. "Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David's hand," said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala. Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. "She was extremely tired and thirsty." A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

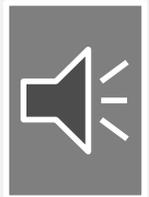

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

DISC JOCKEY

Choose pieces of music that you think capture different sections from the book. Explain your choices.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

JOURNALIST

Choose 3 current news items and explain how some of the characters could be interested in them.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

FILMMAKER

Write the script of a video recreating a chapter or scene that you liked.

- Writing skills - writing up the script
- Pronunciation - working on stress and intonation when acting
- Focus on specific terminology depending on subject - including target vocabulary taken from previous lessons
- Negotiation skills with other students - working together to choose a romantic film, choosing appropriate language for lines
- Improving confidence - acting in front of others

How a photo changed my life

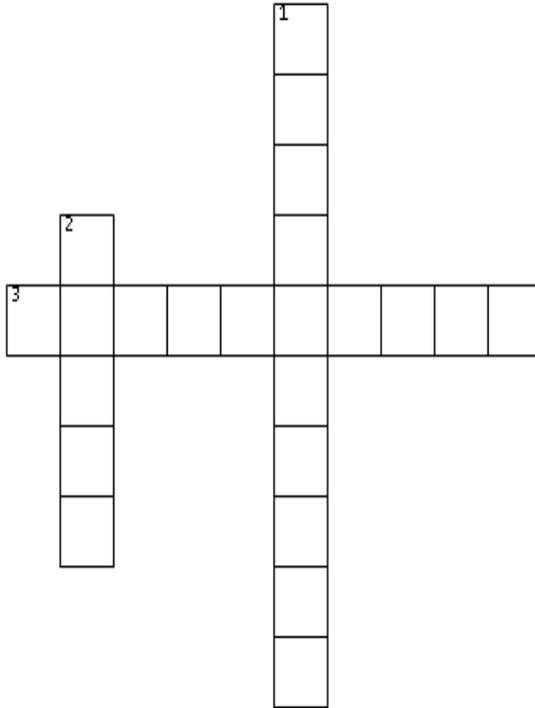

Show Answer

Print Puzzle

Copy Puzzle

Copy Answer

Rebuild Puzzle

ACROSS

3. Who was fighting the fire?

DOWN

1. Where did the events take place?

2. Whom did they notice in the forest?

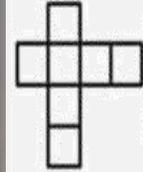

...ares his water with an injured koala.
Mark Pardew/AP

... extremely tired and thirsty." A
... animal to a wildlife centre. At ... her Sam after Samson Road.
... mailed the photo to friends and
... the local newspaper. From there,
... world and David Tree became a

...erous fires that happen in the ... newspaper

PUZZLE MAKER

Make a crossword puzzle about the characters, settings, events or any other details. Write clues for each of them.

<https://puzzle-maker.discover-yeducation.com/>

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

PSYCHOLOGIST

Analyse one of the themes in the story. How does it relate to the world around you?

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

DESIGNER

Design an award for each of the main characters based on their actions. Why do they deserve the award?

Best Rescuer

2023

<https://www.adobe.com/express/create/badge>

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

LEXICOGRAPHER

- —
- —
- —
- —

Make a vocabulary list of unusual words from the book. Explain their meaning.

https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1eREL_TCpXW5vnxpGp_4FgJk2asALLd4PAqhkxCz3krA/edit?usp=sharing <https://view.genial.ly/60605e95bb465e39018212ce/learning-experience-didactic-unit-multi-lingual-dictionary>

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

Find background information about, at least, two of the following: country, culture, time, history, writer’s biography.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

Make an illustration for each chapter or scene.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

LETTER WRITER

Write a letter to the author explaining why you liked the book, including the things you would have changed. Alternatively, write a letter between one of the characters and the author.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

JUDGE

PROCESS

Blue Hat - Process

Thinking about thinking.
What thinking is needed?
Organizing the thinking.
Planning for action.

CREATIVITY

Green Hat - Creativity

Ideas, alternatives, possibilities.
Solutions to black hat problems.

Choose one or two characters and judge them for something they did. Organise a trial.

FACTS

White Hat - Facts

Information and data.
Neutral and objective.
What do I know?
What do I need to find out?
How will I get the information I need?

BENEFITS

Yellow Hat - Benefits

Positives, plus points.
Why an idea is useful.
Logical reasons are given.

FEELINGS

Red Hat - Feelings

Intuition, hunches, gut instinct.
My feelings right now.
Feelings can change.
No reasons are given.

CAUTIONS

Black Hat - Cautions

Difficulties, weaknesses, dangers.
Spotting the risks.
Logical reasons are given.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

ADVERTISER

What products do you think some of the characters might like? Look for ads of goods that you think your characters would like and explain why.

- A known catchphrase
- A visual logo or symbol that is easily recognizable
- An explanation of the product’s uses
- Details on where the product is sold and its price points

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

CARTOONIST

Design a cartoon or comic strip depicting a scene.

<https://www.storyboardthat.com/my-account2>
<https://www.storyboardthat.com/>

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

DETECTIVE

Who or what in the story would you investigate if you were a detective? Write a report with an analysis and a series of recommendations.

THINK! What animals do you like most?

HOW A PHOTO CHANGED MY LIFE

“Koala Man” David Tree woke up one morning to find his photograph on the front page of newspapers around the world.

It was one of the hottest summers in memory in the state of Victoria, Australia. Bush fires* were burning very close to people’s homes and they were in danger. In every town, volunteers were fighting the fires. David Tree was one of these volunteer firefighters.

On 9 February, Mr Tree was working with his team near his home town of Mirboo. They were fighting a bush fire. They were driving up Samson Road when Mr Tree saw a koala. It was walking across the burned ground, and it didn’t look happy. “There’s a koala, stop the truck,” he shouted and jumped out. “I videoed the koala for my daughter Cheyenne, and yelled for a bottle of water.” Firefighter Mark Pardew took the photo while the koala was drinking from a bottle. “Koalas are usually unfriendly but this one took David’s hand,” said

David Tree shares his water with an injured koala.
Photograph: Mark Pardew/AP

Mr Pardew. “She was extremely tired and thirsty.” A friend took the injured animal to a wildlife centre. At the centre, they named her Sam after Samson Road.

Later Mr Pardew emailed the photo to friends and someone sent it to the local newspaper. From there, it went around the world and David Tree became a celebrity.

*Bush fires = fast and dangerous fires that happen in the countryside in Australia.

Adapted from the Guardian newspaper

SONGWRITER

Use the tune of a song you’re familiar with and write the lyrics based on the plot, the theme, or a few characters.

<https://www.song-lyrics-generator.org.uk/2regf9tp/way-you-help-the-daring-brave-and-kindhearted-man-song.html>

<https://www.song-lyrics-generator.org.uk/>